 - VBL: acceptance of risk, persistence in offering beneficial goods, creative planning combining resources, adaptation
 - St. Bernardine of Siena: efficiency, responsibility, hard work, and risk-taking
 - Participation in God’s creative work
 - Participation in God’s providence
 - Good Stewards
 - Innovative Servants of others’ needs
 - Inventive
 - Mentor Others
 - Scriptural passages in favor of those who put their resources at the service of others
 - The Parable of the Talents

- Practical considerations to live the entrepreneurial vocation well.
 - Entrepreneurs are called to sanctity in business, to be good stewards of the Master.
 - Entrepreneurs must depend on God, receiving his gifts and responding to them.
 - Entrepreneurs must beware of all greed
 - Entrepreneurs must strive to maintain a unity of life
 - Entrepreneurs must strive to form a community of persons
 - Entrepreneurs must seek true solidarity with the poor
 - The entrepreneur is called to be charitable in his work and as a result of his work
 - Entrepreneurs ought not facilitate the metastasis of consumerism
 - Entrepreneurs must properly value rest and take it.
- Concluding Remarks
 - VBL: “The vocation of the business person is a genuine human and Christian calling. Its importance in the life of the Church and in the world economy can hardly be overstated.”
 - Every vocation requires a free and responsible answer.
 - “To whom much is given much is demanded.”
 - The Vocation of the Entrepreneur is to become a living commentary of the first two servants in the Parable of the Talents
- Comments and Questions
